Discover delightful independent shops, and cafes, pubs and restaurants serving delicious refreshments to suit all tastes and budgets.

Be sure to visit our magnificent Abbey, step inside the beautiful church, then stroll in lush meadows beside the River Tiffy; perhaps ride a heritage steam train through beautiful Norfolk countryside. Unearth our turbulent agricultural and industrial history at our museum or let our arts centre inspire your creativity.

Immerse yourself in entertaining virtual and augmented reality experiences as you explore. Or simply enjoy a drink in one of England's oldest pubs where rebel leaders Robert and William Kett may have met followers.

Wymondham is in the heart of Norfolk, making it easy to reach by car, bus or train, particularly from Norwich or Cambridge. It's also a great base from which to explore the rest of the county.

Look for local produce, artisanal foods, handcrafted gifts and collectable antiques as you browse the shops and stalls. Buy something special for friends or treat yourself to remind you of your time here.

Whatever you do, we hope you enjoy Wymondham with its friendly people and active community life. Read on to discover more about what our town has to offer. We look forward to seeing you soon.

Our cover artist 2024 Amelia Bowman

Amelia is an artist living in Norfolk.

"I am an artist by sheer force of nature. Working with a printmaking process called 'collagraphy', I create collaged print plates and then using them to produce hand-pulled Collagraph prints. I incorporate my own hand-drawn, digitally-finished pattern designs into this often unpredictable process thus fusing traditional and messy with modern and clean. People say my work strikes a nostalgic chord and makes them smile because it evokes happy memories of favourite places."

Discover Wymondham's rich religious and rebellious rural heritage

When you walk through Wymondham, you are walking through 1000 years of history. It was once an Anglo-Saxon settlement beside an old Roman Road, recorded in Domesday as having 376 households. Its rise to prominence started with the establishment in 1107 of a priory. The priory evolved over the years into Wymondham Abbey and the grand church still watches over the town today.

A short walk away is the recently restored Grade 1 listed Becket's Chapel, built in 1174, which is now home to Wymondham Arts. The town received its first market charter from King John in 1204, a privilege regranted by Henry VI in 1440 and memorialised in our iconic Market Cross, where you will find the Tourist Information Centre.

Inside the Market Cross you can also see a new timeline display illustrating our town's history and immerse yourself in a virtual reality experience of the devastating battle of 1549 for control of Norwich, which sealed the fate of Kett's Rebellion. Further on, past the market place, you'll find the Bridewell building that was a model for prison reform in 1785 and now houses our Heritage Museum.

All these landmarks are open to visitors and are a great way to connect the lives of those who helped put Wymondham on the map. Find out about the tension between Crown and church, and church and town, that shaped the Abbey's fortunes. Learn about the industries that made Wymondham's wealth and the people who fought for common land rights in the middle ages and our freedoms in the 20th century.

If you have been marvelling at the new TV series 'Masters of the Air', remember that many US Airforce personnel visited Wymondham during and after WW2. Many older residents still remember them fondly for handing out American sweets when rationing was still in force. You can find out more about their heroic exploits and sacrifices here: <https://www.visiteastofengland.com/masters-of-the-air>.

As you walk around town, take time to admire the variety of graceful old buildings that line our streets. Spot the few that survived the Great Fire of 1615, including one of the oldest pubs in England. There are plenty of places to stop for refreshments along the way – so be sure to make the most of your visit to our town.

Read our summary of what you can do or pick up a detailed leaflet from the Tourist Information Centre in the Market Cross.

Wymondham Abbey

If you love grand Norman architecture, you will love the magnificent twin towered Wymondham Abbey, which after 900 years still serves as the town's parish church. Enjoy the beautiful grounds, relax in the medieval style herb garden and step inside to admire the high honey-coloured stone nave and great gilded altar screen. Look up to see a flight of 20 human-sized medieval angels and a host of smaller ones gazing down at you from the intricate 15th century roof.

The Abbey is open to visitors most days for quiet reflection when you can light a candle in memory of loved ones. There are regular services, with two on Sunday and more during the week. During these you can enjoy glorious music from one of the two Georgian organs, including one in a lofty Chippendale-style case.

New extensions to the building include a refectory, where you can enjoy light refreshments. In the gift shop you will find a delightful selection of local crafts, herbs, books, and cards, and treats like chocolate, cakes, preserves and sweets, as well as exclusive Amelia Bowman designed homeware. There are also accessible toilets and baby changing facilities, as well as activity tables, trails and toys for children.

Browse displays containing some of the Abbey's priceless treasures dating back to the 13th century.

Discover its fascinating history and role in the life of the town. To hear more about its time as one of the grandest religious buildings in East Anglia, you can book a guided tour – check the website for details.

If you are looking for the best picnic spot in town, you've found it. There are plenty of picnic tables set around the Abbey grounds where you can relax to the sounds of nature with views of meadows and woods.

Celebrate the 475th anniversary of Kett's Rebellion

In the summer of 1549 two Wymondham brothers, Robert & William Kett, led an army of the common people to Norwich.

Despite being poorly armed, they captured and held the city for six weeks against fierce opposition. They were protesting principally about the enclosure of common land and the oppression of the working people by wealthy landowners and called on the King to heed them.

However, the King refused their list of demands and sent in the royal army, which routed the rebels in two bloody battles, killing many of them. The authorities arrested, tried and executed Robert and William as the rebel ringleaders. They hanged Robert from the walls of Norwich Castle and hanged William from the tower of Wymondham Abbey – a grisly reminder to the town's people of the King's displeasure.

In 2024, Wymondham is celebrating the 475th anniversary of Kett's Rebellion and their surprisingly modern demands. There are VR experiences at the Market Cross that you can experience on a headset. You can even follow the 18-mile Kett's Country Trail from Wymondham to Norwich – see our section on walks for more details.

Visit Wymondham this year and walk through the land of rebels – we hope you enjoy your time here.

Wymondham Heritage Museum

For a fascinating family day out, step inside the Wymondham Heritage Museum and immerse yourself in stories from our market town through the ages. There are numerous interactive displays to entertain the children and help them discover what life was like for their ancestors.

Here they can...

- ✓ Play telephone operators on a 60s switchboard
- ✓ Do a 'Time Team' dig for pots and bones
- ✓ Explore new sensory bags
- ✓ Dress up as Victorian characters
- ✓ Brave the deep dark dungeon and meet the 'prisoners'
- ✓ Listen to stories from the gaoler and a policeman
- ✓ Take selfies in front of exhibits to share with family and friends
- ✓ Make a wish in a wishing well
- ✓ Complete a quiz to win a prize

There's plenty to keep the adults occupied too. Find out why the original Bridewell 'House of Correction' was "one of the vilest in the country" and how it inspired vital prison reforms in the 18th century.

Learn about the rural and industrial heritage of Wymondham and the surrounding countryside, including what life was like on the land before mechanisation.

Discover what life was like for workers in a noisy factory and why Wymondham was a centre for brush making right up to the 20th century.

You can also find out what the townspeople put in their shopping baskets when you visit the two recreated shops, displaying goods that were popular 100 years ago. Look out for familiar names such as Cadbury's, Oxo and Macintosh's.

And don't miss the display celebrating the town's most famous citizen, Robert Kett and his brother William.

Why did these Yeoman farmers lead a rebellion in 1549 that captured a city and rocked the nation? And what befell them and their followers when the King's men finally regained control of Norwich?

Then you can relax in The Bridewell Tearoom and enjoy coffee, tea or soft drinks with a slice of homemade cake or a freshly baked cheese or fruit scone.

There's also a beautiful courtyard garden where you can sit on sunny days. It features the original town sign and is full of lovely plants and historical artefacts celebrating our farming and industrial heritage.

Book in advance for a group visit during normal opening hours or you can arrange a special out-of-hours tour.

Inspiring arts and entertainment

Whether you love books, music, paintings, ceramics, theatre, or even performing yourself, you'll love the creative life in Wymondham.

The recently restored Becket's Chapel, at the junction of Church Street and Middleton Street is not just a beautiful historic flint building. It is also home to Wymondham Arts, where you can enjoy exhibitions from May to November and buy unique creations from leading East Anglian artists and crafts people. During the rest of the year, you can enjoy classical concerts performed by talented musicians and other pop-up events (the venue is also available for private hire).

The Abbey also hosts a wide range of events throughout the year, including classical music concerts, fashion shows and craft fairs. Its famous Christmas Fair, with a huge variety of stalls selling festive produce, special gifts and seasonal treats, is a delightful way to celebrate the start of the holiday season. You can then cheer in the New Year with our traditional family pantomime at Central Hall in early January.

The literary scene in Wymondham is particularly strong, as befits a town so close to Norwich, which is a UNESCO City of Literature and home to the National Writing Centre. Wymondham Words Festival is our annual autumn celebration of all things written and performed, including storytelling, poetry and plays across a range of genres. We are also particularly proud of our independent, community-owned, volunteer-run Kett's Books, which hosts regular author events with well-known and newly discovered writers throughout the year.

Here in Wymondham you can find art, craft and pottery studios, as well as suppliers of artists materials. Many pubs, clubs and cafés host live music events, standup comedy shows and poetry jams, featuring popular performers as well as open-mic sessions for aspiring artists young and old (daytimes and evenings). There are also various fairs and festivals celebrating food, drink and culture throughout the year, including Abbey Days Fairs, Mid Norfolk Railway's 1940's weekend and a family jazz picnic by the river.

See events listings on page 50 and 52 Things to Do in Wymondham in the middle of this guide on pages 26 - 27 to plan an entertaining year.

Poppy's Pantry is a café and wholefoods shop with a difference...

Our purpose is to enhance people's lives. When an individual starts their journey with us, they might not know in the first instance what they would like to do. Some may wish to gain work experience, learn new skills, or move into a paid job. Others might not be ready for that and will progress at their own pace, sometimes over a longer period.

Our coaches are on hand to work closely with individuals throughout the working day. All placements will gain real work experience in retail and catering - cooking, sales, customer service, waiting tables, teamwork, fulfilment, and building on social interaction.

Every time you order a tea, coffee, one of our fresh homemade scones, or a hot meal, you are making a positive difference to those people.

These include a modern leisure centre with a gym, swimming pool, spa, café and full programme of sporting activities for all ages. There are also private gyms and exercise studios offering classes covering the a-z of physical fitness and mental health from aerobics, boxercise and dance to martial arts, yoga and zumba.

There are plenty of sports clubs and social societies in and around the town (please see our website for community group listings). These are open to all ages and abilities, making them a great way to get involved in your local community. Activities include football, rugby, archery, golf, tennis and running, as well as children's soft play and pitch & putt for family fun days.

Many make good use of the town's leisure facilities, including a number of playing fields. At the Kett's Park Community & Recreation Centre you'll find a floodlit 3G pitch, a netball court and four modern tennis courts. There is also a large children's playground here and at Kings Head Meadow in the centre of town with a range of equipment where young people can have fun, meet friends and burn off some energy.

Wymondham hosts two long distance races each year: the EAMA 10k Race on 17 November (organised by South Norfolk Council and sponsored by East Anglian Motor Auctions) and the Wymondham Athletics Club New Year's Day 10k run. For other events in 2024, please see the listings on page 50 of this guide

Walks

Beautiful countryside surrounds our historic market town, with green walks only a few minutes from the centre.

Here, along the banks of the River Tiffey, you will find nature reserves and tree lined paths, including a well-marked circular trail that passes the Abbey and heritage steam railway. We even have the Wym Trails app for those of you looking for inspiration, including interactive adventures to delight children.

If you are happy finding your own way, you can pick up an easy to follow map from the Tourist Information Centre at the Market Cross. For those who enjoy hearing fascinating stories from the past as they explore, you can always book a Guided History Walk with one of the many expert local tour guides, some even wear medieval costume for the occasion. And if you want something more strenuous, you can always follow the 18-mile Kett's Country Trail in the rebel footsteps of Robert Kett to Norwich.

Blue Badge walks

We know people with disabilities hate it when poor accessibility holds them back. That is why some guides offer Blue Badge walks, including Level 2 British Sign Language tours, and audio descriptions and touch tours for people with visual impairments. They can adapt routes for wheelchair users and provide guided 'sits' for those with limited mobility (or if the weather is unsuitable). See the listings pages for tour guide contact details, including those offering tailored tours to suit individuals, clubs and other groups.

Short walks

Enjoy a 1.1-mile mini-adventure along Wymondham's Abbey Trail, over the River Tiffey, down the ancient moss covered Lady's Lane, along medieval Damgate with its half-timbered houses and back to the Abbey grounds. Or stroll through Becketswell Meadow, where we hold our annual summer jazz festival, and look out for kingfishers, otters, water voles and even barn owls. We also have nature reserves at Toll's Meadow and The Lizard Pastures, a County Wildlife Site maintained by a 200-year-old charity for public benefit.

Walks through time

See how Wymondham's Market Place looked in medieval times. Meet Wymondham's most famous son, rebel leader Robert Kett, and walk among the tents and campfires of his rebellious followers. Watch the rise and partial fall of Wymondham Abbey through the ages.

These are just some of the immersive stories you'll find on our unique Wym Trails app. All you need to join the fun, is a smartphone or similar device. Using augmented and virtual reality visual experiences, this free digital trail app brings Wymondham's rich and turbulent history to life, including the Great Fire of 1615. Young family members, in particular, should look for the sculpture of 'Henry the Hare' near the Market Cross.

Just point your Wym Trails enabled smartphone at his plinth and watch an animated Henry spring to life. Then follow him on a virtual treasure hunt with quiz questions around the town.

You can download your free Wym Trails app from the App Store or Google Play. It is essential to do this when you have fast connection, such as before leaving home – and remember to check your data settings. You can find out more about the app, including exclusions, at www.south-norfolk.gov.uk/wymtrails

See the map on the back cover to get started or visit the Tourist Information Centre at the Market Cross in town.

Wymondham is a popular destination in its own right and it's a great base from which to explore Norfolk. There are many excellent places to stay in town and the surrounding villages. You are sure to feel welcome.

Choose from romantic boutique hotels, luxury hotels with spas and championship-standard golf courses, self-catering Airbnbs, traditional bed & breakfasts, and pretty caravan and glamping sites – many of them family and dog friendly.

You will be within easy reach of Norfolk's glorious countryside with its many woods, meadows and nature reserves (including some within walking distance of the town centre) – as well as some of the finest stately homes in England. Wymondham is also just 10 miles from the fine city of Norwich and about an hour's drive from our beautiful coast, with its many charming villages and seaside entertainments.

There's also a great selection of attractions within 15-20 miles of Wymondham, making it ideal for days out and long weekends. Take your pick of beautiful gardens and garden centres, including specialist growers of roses and other plants. Marvel at the exotic animals in an important conservation zoo, look for native wildlife in country parks, pet animals on working farms, and even stand in awe of dinosaurs.

Discover 'living' museums celebrating our industrial and agricultural heritage with character guides, farm animals and working machines. Explore the lives of those who experienced the World Wars, including the 'Friendly Invasion' of those who served in the USAAF 2nd Air Division. Visit the old airfields and pay respects to the fallen at the many memorials around the county

Enjoy tours and tastings at distilleries, breweries, farms and vineyards. Challenge your reaction time with driving experiences. Or simply have fun playing paintball or laser-tag with friends and family.

Don't forget to take a ride on the heritage steam train from Wymondham to Dereham. And find time to visit some of our neighbouring market towns, like Hingham, and unspoilt villages, like New Buckenham.

Remember to visit the Tourist Information Centre in the Market Cross to get details of local attractions.
